COLLEGE ATHLETES TO RACE AGGIES

Corley Goes to Washington to Make Arrangements—Georgetown Will Be at Local Meet.

Manager Corley, of the Richmond College track team, is back from a trip to Washington, where he made arrangements to have his relay team at the Georgetown meet, to be held March 4. The local squad will race the Maryland Aggies. In addition, he secured the promise of the Washingtonians to be present at the big open-air meet to be held here at the hall park on April 12. Costello, Smith and Baricello are sure to come, and in addition some of the other stars will also be on hand.

Coach Hagaman had all of his men out yesterday afternoon, and sent them around for 500 yards. They were kept jogging to get their wind in condition, rather than to develop any speed. Johnson, a new man, joined the squad yesterday. He is a jumper, and yesterday cleared the bars in his first attempt, at five feet two inches. He is highly regarded by Hagaman, who hopes to develop his talent.

Matters are rapidly shaping themselves for the meet here, and it will in all probability be the largest and most successful of its kind ever held in this city.

New Orleans, La., February 21.—The last entry for the Mardi Gras speed carnival, which will be run in conjunction with the first automobile show in New Orleans, is in. The final entrant is Robert Burman, who lowered the Virginia mile track record at New Orleans two years ago nine minutes for a hundred miles.

As chairman of the contest, Fred J. Wagner, starter for the association, and W. C. Poethner, machine, have left New York for the carnival, and will arrive Friday.

LANG NO MATCH FOR SAM LANGFORD

Australian Disqualified, but American Proves Far Superior Boxer.

London, February 21.—Bill Lang, who once held the heavyweight championship of Australia, was no match for the pugilist, the American colored pugilist, the scheduled fight round bout at the Olympia to-night. Langford won in the sixth round, when he was disqualified, but the contest could not have gone much longer, as Lang was almost out when he committed the foul.

Six thousand spectators gathered at the Olympia to witness the fight, which was a long and fast fight, and which showed a great disappointment when the referee pronounced Langford the winner. The Australian, with all his natural advantages, including a extra fifty-two pounds in weight, was hopelessly outclassed by the colored fighter, who walked into him and hit him from all angles, where and when he wished. Lang, and his disqualification was the best thing that could have happened, for he was so groggy that he was bound to have been put out if he had not transgressed.

The only redeeming feature of Lang's showing was his aggressiveness in taking punishment. As early as the first round Sam punched him all over the body. In the second, the negro cornered, and dropped him for a count of nine with terrific left and right swings to the jaw.

Lang went down again for nine in the third round, by a right to the point of the jaw, but came back in the fourth, and stood up and exchanged left and right swings with Langford at a terrific rate. At that period of the bout, both of Lang's eyes were almost closed, and Langford was laughing.

The Australian took a long count, twice more in the fifth, but in spite of the heavy punishment, he carried the fight to Langford the next time, and in a fast in-fighting rally, put the latter down, but this was more by accident than anything else. Lang was greatly excited, and pretty hazy in the third time, and he rushed his opponent, striking him heavily before Langford could regain his feet.

SHAFTS FROM SPORTLAND

By GUS MALBERT.

New organization has just been formed in Richmond.

It answers to the rhythmic title of "Merchants of the Blast Furnace," and its chief song is "Why buy coal when hot air is so cheap?"

Jimmie Sullivan is chief merchant; Joe Heuser, chief clerk; Billy Chappel, assistant chief clerk, with Buck Hooker, George Cowan, Frank Biglin and Dutch Revelle as peddlers extraordinary.

"Old times" was the subject under discussion yesterday between lads, for Sullivan would have his run around the diamond.

Sullivan warbled a few strains of the ditty he sang back in '96, when he bought Jesse Tannhill, who was then working for the Roanoke Club.

Joe told of the trunk he grabbed because the management of the team in those days refused to come across with a measly $20 which it owed him.

Buck Hooker and Frank Biglin recalled with glee the many times they "stole in" at Island Park just to see "Pop" Tate knock one to the fishes.

Then came tiny Billy Chappel, who told to this time: "I remember when Billy Nash threw one to 'Pop' so hard that all 'Pop' could do was to grunt." And Billy is only seventeen, he says.

Now that the Brady matter is settled, presume that Danville will feel sorry for the mean things some people say under said.

"Will wonders never cease?" No, not until the season begins, and then they will wonder their way homewards, to blossom forth some where next season, the same kind of wonders as before.

My mistake, old top. I knew there is a receiving ship Franklin, and I didn't know it was in the water, but if it isn't in Hampton Roads, put it where ever you want it. Same thing to me.

Methinks I hear great rushing of air as if a cyclone were upon us. But peace. It is merely the vociferations of the Booker-Hammon-Clarke Jerkwater outlaw conglomeration in session in Norfolk.

Verboten will be here on March 12, says Owner Bradley. Baker may come.

SALARY LIMIT TALK MAKES FANS LAUGH

League Magnates Will Decide What Is to Be Done When Meeting Is Held—Question of Salaries No Joke, but Business Proposition.

Every little while some wag, intending to be serious, writes a funny story about the salary limit in the Virginia League. The stories have become so frequent of late that a great majority of the public has doubtless come to the conclusion that it was indeed thoughtful on the part of the people who first organized the league to establish such a thing as a salary limit. It has come to be a most fertile source when the thought fountain runs dry or when the brain becomes lagged and refuses to yield anything worth while. Instead of being a toy for the youth-

How Much Will You Give?

Naturally there are a few persons, greatly impressed with their own importance, who are crying down the baseball which the Virginia League will give for $1,200. To those people J. H. Jones, who is the owner of a franchise in the Virginia League, has a little lower grade of baseball, which gives the men who have put up the money a chance to get some return on the investment, than to have no baseball at all. Nor do the people of Virginia expect to see big league ball with minor league incomes.

ANTI-VETO BILL AIMED AT LORDS

Measure Will Accomplish Historic Change in Parliamentary System.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

London, February 21.—The government bill to abolish the veto power of the House of Lords, which, if the government is able to pass as it stands, promises to accomplish a historic change in the parliamentary system of Great Britain, was introduced in the House of Commons to-day by Premier Asquith.

No one professes to foresee the outcome of the constitutional battle. The measure, the Premier said, had gone before the electorate at the recent elections, and had been endorsed by the return of its supporters to the House of Commons with a majority of 126.

Mr. Asquith declared that when the Lords rejected the budget of 1909 they committed political suicide. History would say that it was the most stupendous act of political blindness ever perpetrated.

Hereditary in origin, irresponsible in the exercise of its powers and overwhelmingly partisan in its actual position—that was the body to which the law intrusted the right to delay and check the considered decisions of elected representatives of the people.

The Premier said that he did not propose to dispense with a second chamber. Mr. Asquith said that the political fortunes of the representatives of the government were at stake. He concluded his speech by saying:

"The government presents this bill as the first and most urgent step it can take towards the attainment of perfection."

A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, commented upon the absence of all evidence of a conciliatory spirit in the Premier's speech. All were agreed, he said, that there should be a modification of the relations of the two houses, but the reconstitution of the House of Lords should be the subject of cautious deliberation. The general system must prevail, and the House of Commons must be the predominant partner.

The "veto bill" introduced to-day is described as "a bill to make provision with respect to the powers of the House of Lords in relation to those of the House of Commons and to limit the duration of Parliament."

The preamble recites: "It is expedient that provision shall be made for regarding the relations between the two houses of Parliament," and that "it is intended to substitute for the House of Lords as it at present exists a second chamber, composed of a popular instead of hereditary basis." This substitution, it is pointed out, cannot be made immediately, however, and future provision must be made by Parliament limiting and defining the powers of the new second chamber.

Lynchburg, Va., February 21.—Fred Bruck, of Baltimore, has signed a Lynchburg contract, and he is expected to be one of the strong candidates for a regular position on the pitching staff for the Shoemakers this year.
